4. Training for and serving as Acolyte 1

Once the apprentice has reached a sufficient ability at AC2 according to his MC, he can request training from his MC for AC1. After having trained, he can sign up to serve with his MC at Low Mass, but request from his MC to swap positions so that the apprentice will serve as AC1 while his MC serves as AC2. Once this has been done three times, the MC can then nominate him to be scheduled as AC1.

5. Training for and serving as Acolyte at Low Mass

The final step in learning to serve Low Mass is to serve as Acolyte at Low Mass, which means to serve Low Mass with only one server. This is an important step, but because the number Masses available for just one acolyte are limited, this step is not strictly required. It is highly recommended, however.

Please record the dates and times that the apprentice has served as AC1 with his MC as AC2.
